MacQUEEN HERE MAY 13.

The world-famous lecturer and war correspondent, Peter MacQueen, is surely coming to Barton to give his great lecture on the European war, illustrated with 200 wonderful pictures taken on the battle fields by his own hand. He returned from the scene of the struggle early this spring, where he acted as correspondent for the Boston Post, and returns to Europe shortly after giving this lecture in Barton. This will probably be your only opportunity of seeing and hearing a man who has been a part of this great conflict. We understand no other dates have been scheduled in this section and it is advised that you secure your tickets early at Pierce's. Watch for the date of their sale and remember the date. The place is Seaver's hall, and the usual prices of 25 and 55 cents will prevail.

May Is Free Monitor Month.

On page three of this issue is explained the much-discussed reader the Monitor has carried for the past few weeks: "Have one on the Monitor." It's simply this, May is to be free for all. Anyone and everyone may have the paper during May by merely asking for it with absolutely no obligation on their part. That's the only price. It's our method of getting the paper before a large number of people who do not now have it. We want all to see and know that the Monitor is an Orleans county newspaper trying to serve its field well. We believe it is doing so better than any other paper printed, and as a matter of advertising this fact broadcast we make this offer. Read more fully about it on page three.

Lyndonville Boy Disappears.

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Stahler of Lyndonville are seeking their son, Walter R. Stahler, aged 15 years, who disappeared from home Thursday in company with another boy of about the same age. The parents are heart broken and say that there is no punishment, not even a scolding, awaiting him if he will return home. The boy told a schoolmate that he would look for farm work this summer and it is believed that he has gone away with that intention. The boy was dressed in a brown suit, with knee pants, light cap and red sweater. He is tall, has dark hair and one upper front tooth is gold filled. He has a horse-shaped scar four inches long over his right ear.

Band to Give Play.

The Barton Cornet band, assisted by local talent, will present the drama, "Country Folks," at the Seaver opera house Friday evening, May 7th. This is a three-act drama of real merit and rehearsals have been in progress for a long time. There will be a dance after the play and the band will furnish the music. The season for our open air concerts is very rapidly approaching and a good way for us to show our appreciation of these concerts will be to attend this play and contribute the small admission that is necessary and besides this we shall be well entertained at both the play and dance. Tickets will go on sale at Pierce's drug store April 30th.

County Folks in California.

The following was clipped from a California paper and sent the Monitor by L. J. Harriman, formerly cashier in the Barton National bank, but now cashier of a growing bank in Fowler, Cal.

"Dr. A. M. Goddard of Albany, Vermont and Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Darling of Oak Bluffs, Mass., spent the fore part of the week as guests at the C. Kimball home. On Monday this company and Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Harriman took an all day auto drive through the Lindsay and Exeter orange sections and the trip proved a most delightful one, the trees being in full bloom just now, yet holding quantities of ripe fruit. A picnic dinner was enjoyed at noon. The entire company were New Englanders, having all come from Orleans county, Vermont, and their visit will long be remembered. The visitors left Tuesday to begin their long journey homeward. M. and Mrs. Kimball taking them to Hanford by auto."

Car of Holsteins.

A carload of high grade Holsteins was set off here Sunday, coming from Belknap Falls and consigned to Albert Fuller and to other West Charleston parties. Four of the cows in this lot cost their owner nearly $100 and all of the eight head were pure blood registered stock. Apparently a time has arrived when the up-to-date farmer believes that it is better to raise good stock as it does not cost any more than the old mongrel breed. This stock was driven from here to Charleston on Monday.

Amos Chaffee and son, Charles, have purchased the Gebbie farm in Greensboro.

Dr. J. A. Pearson is having his office and rooms generally repaired and painted.

A. A. Larabee and family are moving this week to their new home on Glover street.

Mrs. E. G. Baldwin is teaching the school in the Devereaux district, which reopened Monday.

Miss Beatrice Jennings has again resumed her duties as teacher of the Willoughby school.

E. E. Liddell has returned from Boston where he has been visiting his brother for several days.

Mrs. George Sylvester of Nashua, N. H., is a guest at the home of her brother, Judge Thompson.

J. W. Murkland has not been quite as well as usual the past week and has been confined to his home.

The Crystal Lake Hotel is being repainted inside and rooms put in shape for summer business.

Mrs. H. A. Clark has been quite ill at the home of her daughter, Mrs. C. E. Hamblet, the past week.

Mrs. Will Norris was at West Burke Monday on account of the serious illness of Mrs. M. H. Lewis.

There was a very large attendance at the term last night to see Mary Pickford in "A Good Little Devil."

John Caldwell of Boston has been the guest of Mrs. C. H. Jones and Miss Carrie Jones the past week.

The Morency Brothers are doing the interior finish work on the W. E. Hanson new house on Elm street.

Will Taylor of Chicago, formerly in the employ of J. W. Murkland, is a guest of his uncle, George Katen.

Mrs. F. J. Burdick, who has been confined to the house on account of illness, is able to be about again.

C. B. Sternberg advertises elsewhere a daily auto service between here and Greensboro Bend beginning Monday.

The Barton Fruit company have a new fruit wagon and intend this summer to run two teams a part of the time.

Part Dean and family of Rochester, N. H. were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. John McLellan the first of the week.

The tennis court on the Mrs. Powell lot has been put into excellent shape and it is expected that it will soon be in use.

Frank Clifford played with the Richmond orchestra last week at the opening of the new Richmond opera house in that town.

George Goodro is building a camp at the mouth of May Brook on the lake shore where he intends camping a part of the season.

Noah Brooks is repairing his house and making many improvements, a part of which were made necessary by the recent fire there.

Albert Scott and his father have leased a quarry in Sheffield and are quarrying granite there, which is said to be of excellent quality.

Mrs. Walter Colby is having a dormer window put on her house on Church street and making other repairs and improvements.

CONFERENCE APPOINTMENTS.

One of the most successful conferences of the Vermont district of the Methodist Episcopal denomination on record was held in Brattleboro last week, Bishop Cooke presiding. In his address before the conference the bishop said this conference was one of the best in the denomination compared with its size.

The appointments made for this vicinity of the St. Johnsbury district are as follows:

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH NOTES.

Rev. W. A. Warner preached an excellent sermon to a large union congregation Sunday morning. Double quartet furnished music and Miss Redfield sang a beautiful offertory.

Services of the week as usual. Sunday morning service at 10.45, Sunday school at 12. C. E. at 6 and preaching service at 7 p. m. Mr. Warner begins soon a series of evening talks on John Hus. Prayer meeting Thursday evening at 7.30 o'clock. Mr. Warner makes these services very interesting and you should attend.

Eli Flanders, who has been stopping at the Crystal Lake Hotel the past winter, has gone to Charleston, where he will stay for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Brooks and children are visiting at the home of Mr. Brooks' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Judah Brooks, at May Pond.

A small deer came up Glover street one morning last week and walked leisurely up School street, apparently without fear of dog or man.

The Peerless Manufacturing company ran the full six days last week and there seems to be an indication of better business in their lines.

Ora Piper, who came from New York last fall on account of poor health, is much better, and is working at Hotel Barton a part of the time.

Clyde Norris has taken possession of the blacksmith shop, which he purchased from John Arkley last fall, and will operate it as a blacksmith shop.

Mrs. Ethel Davis, who has been spending a week at the home of her brother, Henry Sutor, at South Deerfield, Mass., has returned home.

C. H. Hanson has purchased the entire herd of cows formerly owned by Paul Ducharme and Mr. Ducharme will restock his farm with Holsteins.

The Barton Savings Bank & Trust company have another supply of the home savings banks, which they are distributing among their depositors.

At the Wilson farm auction Friday, stock sold at very high prices, one ten-year-old cow selling at $183 and some yearling stock as high as $80 per head.

J. N. Webster was in Boston last week, returning with Mrs. Webster, who was taken ill while in the city and shortened her stay there somewhat.

John Keating has commenced to slate the roofs of his two large tenement houses on South Main street, two men coming from White River Junction to do the job.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Clogston are the first of our campers to go to their camp in Crystal Lake grove, having commenced to enjoy the camping season Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Batchelder and son, Richard, have returned from Bermuda, where Mr. Batchelder has been playing in one of the large hotels there the past season.

The following letters remain uncalled for at the postoffice. Please say advertised when calling for these letters. Mrs. R. J. Avery, Frank L. Alwaise, Bert Keenen.

Mrs. H. W. Carter and daughter, Helen, are in Boston and Springfield this week and will return in a new Cadillac eight-cylinder car, which Mr. Carter recently purchased.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Williamson, who have been visiting relatives and friends in Massachusetts and New Hampshire for the past two months, have returned to their home.

The feature play at the Gem Tuesday evening will be the five-part story of "The Castaways," a story by the noted Jules Verne. A picture of exciting travel and adventure.

A slight accident occurred in front of the Phillips shop last week when a horse driven by Frank Lemos became frightened and ran into the buggy driven by Noah Brooks, breaking a wheel.

County Agricultural Association Notes.

The county agent recently sent directions for home mixing of chemicals to all persons who purchased chemicals through the Orleans County association, but for fear there may be some details which are not clear to some of the farmers, he has planned a series of mixing demonstrations, in the various communities, which anyone interested in seeing the work done, may attend and take up any questions regarding the work. The list of the demonstrations is as follows:

Apr. 26, 10 a. m., at W. G. Gorman's, Coventry; 2 p. m., at J. H. Bartlett's, Orleans.
Apr. 27, 10 a. m., at E. S. Kelley's, Brimington; 2 p. m., at C. T. Metcalf's, Iresburg.
Apr. 28, 10 a. m., at E. C. Baker's, West Glover; 2 p. m., at Miller & Kaiser's, Greensboro.
Apr. 29, 10 a. m., at W. L. Dugan's, North Craftsbury; 2 p. m., at A. C. Cheney's, Albany.
Apr. 30, 10 a. m., at S. E. Bates's, Derby; 2 p. m., at S. E. Gray's, Morgan.
May 3, 10 a. m., at George Bailey's, Newport Center; 2 p. m., at Guy Kinsley's, Lowell.
May 4, 10 a. m., at M. L. Porter's, Tighe; 2 p. m., at H. E. Gray's, Westfield.

Evangelist Smith.

"Evangelist Lewis E. Smith is meeting with his usual success in the meetings he is conducting in his campaign in this state. On his last Sunday night at the Congregational church at Windsor, twenty-four people accepted the invitation to become Christians and came to the front at his request. At West Charleston, where he is now at work in union meetings, Sunday evening the Congregational church was filled and twelve people responded to the invitation, young men and women, husbands and wives. Nearly one hundred men were present at the men's meeting. From West Charleston he goes to Beebe, Que."

Notice.

The annual meeting of the Welcome O. Brown Cemetery association will be held at the office of F. W. Baldwin in Barton on Tuesday, May 4th, 1915 at 7.30 o'clock, p. m., to hear the report of its officers and elect officers for the ensuing year, and do any other legal business.

F. W. Baldwin, Secretary.
Barton, Vt., April 26, 1915.

Kimball Page, who recently underwent an operation for appendicitis at Brightfort hospital in St. Johnsbury, was able to return to his home here Saturday night and is gaining very rapidly.

Nazar Bushey's little daughter, who has been suffering from rheumatism for a long time and confined to the room for nearly a year, is somewhat better and able to walk with the aid of crutches.

John Batchelder and Royden Cheney of Manchester, N. H., were at their camps at Long Pond a day last week, getting things in readiness for the fishing season. They report that the ice is not yet out of the pond.

May 3-7 is clean-up week. This is an event in which everybody is interested. Let us each do the necessary cleaning up about our own places and the effect as a whole will be an attractive improvement in the town.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Cutler spent Friday at West Glover with Mr. Mr. Cutler's sister, Mrs. Emily Baker to assist in celebrating her 80th birthday. Her daughter, Cora, Mrs. Newton Lewis, of Fargo, N. D., is with her.

The beautiful warm weather of the past week continues. Although quite dry, heavy showers Saturday and Sunday nights helped vegetation. Both showers were accompanied by thunder and lightning but no serious damage is reported.

Miss Fannie May went Saturday to Montreal to visit Miss Gallup, who has been for several seasons a guest of Miss May here. Miss Gallup is about to sail for Europe where she will follow her profession of trained nurse in the war zone.

Byron N. Clark, state secretary of the Y. M. C. A., will give an illustrated lecture at the school house Thursday evening at 8 o'clock, on Camp Abnaki on Lake Champlain. This camp is under the direction of the state Y. M. C. A. organization and is for boys.

Mrs. Mary Hafford died at her home on South Main street, yesterday. The funeral will be from St. Paul's church Thursday morning, and the remains will be taken to St. Johnsbury for burial. Mrs. Hafford is a long-time resident of Barton. An obituary will follow in our next issue.

A man by the name of Provenchal, who was apparently under the influence of liquor, wrecked his wagon on the iron fence near the home of Mrs. Dutton one night last week, and was taken to Lyndonville by an officer and made to settle for the damage done the livery rig.

The tubshop is getting up a baseball team this season, which looks from the makeup as though it might be a rather formidable team. They are raising a little money by popular subscription and it looks as though Barton might again have a representative team this season.

The first annual meeting of the Barton Improvement club was held Tuesday evening April 27th. The following officers were elected: A. P. Underwood, president; H. W. Carter, vice-president; H. P. Baldwin, secretary and treasurer; F. R. Hastings, O. W. Caron, J. F. Batchelder and W. W. Reidren, trustees.

ANOTHER BIRTHDAY PARTY.

Thursday evening the members of the English IV class were delightfully entertained at the home of Ruth Gleason, the occasion being her birthday. Various games were played and a general good time spent. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served during the evening. As one of the party remarked, it is nice to have a birthday now and then.

TICK TOCK.

Tick: Tock, I would a word with you. How many persons, do you suppose really know who we are, or what we do?

Tock: I don't know and should have to hazard a guess. But what of that? Have you noticed some of those "rock cut" that are floating about school? One boy got his hair cut and then had to buy a new cap. His old one was too large.

Tick: I noticed V. P. teasing H. S., about his new style of haircombing.

Tock: Don't you think it is time, Tick, that seniors should not use such expressions as "hadn't ought," "very awful," "ain't got" and the like?

Tick: Oh! they'll learn someday. Although we were not at the fair grounds Thursday afternoon, I have heard considerable gossip about how carefully J. E. K., and L. W., planned when it was time to go home.

Tock: When did they go home?

Tick: Just when an auto with two gentlemen in it was going home. Then the girls decided they "au-to" go.

Tock: The domestic science girls had considerable experience and fun in preparing for their ice cream sale Thursday. Just ask M. E. U., how easy is the art of burning a cake.

Tick: Or any of the girls how to make chocolate ice cream.

Tock: I would like to know what the joke in Eng. IV was the other day.

Tick: I can't tell you here, Tock, but you just ask any of the senior girls and they'll tell you.

Tock: Did you hear about L. E.? He lost his hat a few nights since and couldn't find it for an hour or more until after he had borrowed a lantern from one of the neighbors and had searched diligently.

Tick: And at the freshman reception did you notice how careful he was to wear gloves when raising the curtain, so as not to soil his hands.

Tock: The last prom was ladies' choice. A young lady asked Les—to prom. Les—accepted but said he couldn't walk home with her, as it was too far to go.

Tock: This happened in American Government class. "Se—, how would you like a congressional position?" "Wouldn't like it; haven't brains enough."

"So you are willing to admit it?"

A third person: "Has to. Everybody knows it."

BASEBALL.

Thursday night after school the academy baseball team played a practice game with a team from the village.

The true B. A. spirit was evident by the number of students, who cheered for the boys while they won by a score of 6 to 5. The game was not only a source of a good time but one of good hard
